

The Danisco Safety, Health and Environmental Policy

Our Safety, Health and Environment policy (SHE) is based on the principles of sustainable development. This Policy is developed to meet the expectations of our customers, employees and other stakeholders.

In the spirit of this commitment, we organize our work activities to improve continually in SHE management systems and performance in all our activities.

We are committed to meet legal, internal and other requirements, to which we subscribe, to prevent pollution and preserve resources and to prevent injury and ill health of our employees.

Progress will be monitored and communicated to our employees, and we will use their input to improve our performance.

We are committed to maintaining an open and transparent dialogue with the local communities where we operate and with other stakeholders.
